GREAT CROWD AT PICNIC

Competitive Spirit Of School Track Meet Draws Throng To Bennett Park At Early Hour

The county picnic, under way today at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park, may prove to be the largest gathering of its kind held in the county seat for several years.

Exceptionally large early attendance at the grounds was noted and those in charge attributed this to the wide interest in the track meet for grammar school boys and girls of the county which was under way shortly before ten o'clock.

Earlier, under the guidance of County School Superintendent E. J. Fitzgerald, a large field began the eliminations in the horse shoe pitching contest in which Harold Webster, of Diamond Springs, is again defending his county championship.

Following the conclusion of the track meet, the last scheduled event before noon was the selection of El Dorado County's Outdoor Girl for 1938.

Placerville Lions had their refreshment booth in operation and an early run of business was reported.

A seemingly inexhaustible supply of beans and coffee was on hand, with the compliments of Placerville merchants, in preparation for the picnic luncheon.

The afternoon program was to open about 1:30 o'clock with an exhibition drill by the high school girls' drill team, directed by Miss Lucia Hotchkiss, and the concluding features of the afternoon were three softball games, one between girls' teams and two between men's teams.

3 Million Known Lepers In World

400 In United States, Says Official Returned From Conference Held In Egypt

CLEVELAND, (U)—Perry Burgess, of New York, president of the Leonard Wood Memorial foundation for research in leprosy, has summarized the present scientific attitude toward the disease.

Burgess visited Cleveland after returning from the World Congress on Leprosy, in Cairo, Egypt. Medical science has not progressed further toward a cure for leprosy than it has toward one for cancer, he declared.

He suggested one immediate solution for the treatment of lepers: The segregation of all lepers in self-supporting colonies and a world organization for trade among them. He said that there are 3,000,000 people affected by leprosy in the world.

Burgess enumerated some of the more important facts now known about the disease:

There are not more than 400 lepers in the United States.

Fifty per cent of lepers are able-bodied.

Leprosy is not necessarily fatal. A large percentage of lepers die of old age or tuberculosis.

The disease takes about 20 years to incubate and is contagious only in certain restricted areas.

The germ has been isolated but has not been grown. Nobody knows how to kill it by treatment.

Experimentation with the disease is difficult because it cannot be transmitted to animals.

Wins Safety Award, Then Has Accident

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., (U)—Alfred Waditz was presented yesterday at an employees meeting with a safety certificate as an award for never having an accident as an employee of the St. Joseph Lead Co. Ten minutes later he caught his left arm under an elevator. The arm was amputated at a hospital.

Ring, Sold For Dime, Brings $150 Reward

REDONDO BEACH, (U)—Mrs. Al Protisch, wife of a local jeweler, had her $2500 diamond ring back today, and the man who bought it from a schoolboy for 10 cents had $150. The boy had found the ring and sold it. The purchaser took it to the nearest jeweler, who recognized it as his wife's ring. The jeweler paid $150 reward.

HOPES HE WON'T WIN—Jockeys Charley Kurtsinger, left, who will ride War Admiral, and John (Red) Pollard, rider of Seabiscuit in the match race on May 30 for $100,000, greet each other at Belmont Park, Long Island, but each hopes the other won't win. The riders have been giving the two famed horses preliminary training for the race.

Principal Palmer certainly knows the "way of a boy at a picnic" and it is a good thing that he scheduled the grammar school track meet as an early morning event.

Otherwise, judging by what we saw at noon, none of the boys and girls would have been able to do anything in the competitive events. They would have been "too full."

What a day for a picnic and what a picnic! Everything seems to be turning out so well that different ones are suggesting it will be a good idea to abandon the "May Day" date in the future and schedule the picnic as a "County Picnic" along about the middle of May every year.

Seems the weather along about that time is more dependable;—and more picnic-y.

A published report mentions that the pending "lending-spending" program of the government makes it likely that certain northern California communities "in line" for postoffices, will soon get their buildings. Placerville's probable appropriation is mentioned as being $20,000, which must be a mistake. Or, perhaps they are going to build a change room for the employees, and then add the building later. On a "unit plan," as you might say.

Woodbridge Metcalf, extension service forester, was in the county Saturday, meeting with the Camino 4-H Forestry club.

Y. D. Barnes, 17, of El Dorado, was sentenced to five days in jail Friday by Justice of the Peace W. G. Taylor, at Shingle, when found guilty on a charge of reckless driving, brought by Traffic Officer Bob Fowler.

Earl Rutledge, 32, of El Dorado, was sentenced to five days in jail Friday by Justice of the Peace W. G. Taylor, of Shingle, when found guilty on a charge of reckless driving, brought by Traffic Officer Bob Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil F. Reynolds, of Omo Ranch, are the parents of a daughter, Donna Lee, born on May 11 at Placerville Sanatorium, according to a certificate filed with Recorder Charles Marsh Saturday.

The proceeds of a whist party to be given at the community hall at Smith Flat this evening will go toward the improvement of the Smith Flat cemetery. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

THIEVES LIKE CRACKERS

MASSILLON, O., (U)—Thieves broke into the truck driven by E. F. Blythe and took three and one-half pounds of crackers.

Birth of a daughter, La Raine Ann Reeder, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chapman Reeder, of Placerville, at Placerville Sanatorium was recorded Saturday with Recorder Charles Marsh.

Just because the Bartletts are away, fans will not be without their Sunday baseball game, for the El Dorado County Merchants open their at home schedule in the Foothill League Sunday afternoon at Bennett Park against Newcastle.

Manager Cliff Swesey has made preparations for appropriate opening day ceremonies in which Louis Armes, Jay Fox, Edwin F. Smith and Wallace M. Ripley will take part.

In their first games in the league, the Merchants lost 8 to 3 at Forest Hill last week, while Newcastle bowed before Auburn in a ten-inning game in which the score was 10 to 9.

Manager Swesey reports that with the high school league play at an end, a number of the Cougars will be seen in the Merchants' lineup Sunday for the first time, and it is hoped that the added strength may be sufficient to set the club for a string of victories for the balance of the season.

PUBLIC WARNED NOT TO PAY FEES FOR JOB INSURANCE

SACRAMENTO, (U)—A warning against soliciting fees or offering to expedite the collection of unemployment insurance payments was issued today by Carl L. Hyde, state director of the department of employment.

Hyde said he had information in several instances where claimants awaiting checks have been approached by individuals offering "influential action" in the payment of delayed checks.

"It is unthinkable that persons would attempt to exact a 'fee' and 'cash in' on human misery by offering to speed a process, upon which we believe the best in human ingenuity and mechanical perfection is being used," Hyde said. He asked that the names of "scalpers" be submitted to his office.

FALLS 15 FEET, UNHURT

CLEVELAND, (U)—X-ray pictures failed to show that 17-month-old Ernest Cowan had been injured in a 15-foot fall from a second floor porch.

The Bartletts journey to Folsom Sunday afternoon for their first battle of the season with Charlie Gallagher's outfit and a game which will give Bartlett followers a definite slant on what may be expected of the club this year.

In second place, the Barts have played one more game than Folsom, which is the third place team and playing a strong game this season. Last week the Folsomites upset Colfax, 15 to 2.

Auburn goes to Loomis for the Sunday afternoon engagement and reports have it that Loomis is prepared to give the Placer County seat nine its first defeat.

The Wolf & Royer club goes to Colfax while the Roseville Tigers stay home to entertain the Grass Valley nine.

Manager Al Prince indicated Saturday morning that he was so well satisfied with the new Bartlett infield last week that he will probably continue in their present positions indefinitely.

Grangers Meet At Davis

DAVIS—Approximately 1,000 Grangers from all sections of the state gathered Saturday morning at the Branch College of Agriculture for what it is hoped will be the first of a series of annual Grange Days at the "farm."

According to State Master George Sehlmeier, purpose of the day is to acquaint Grangers with the work being done at the College of Agriculture as it affects them and their operations.

Eyvind Faye, Pomona Master of Yolo County, was in charge of general arrangements and was assisted by District Deputy F. J. Greer and the masters of the Yolo County subordinate Granges.

No events were made for a picnic luncheon in the Sunken Gardens at noon and this afternoon there will be a short program with talks by State Master Sehlmeier and Dean Hutchinson with Prof. K. A. Ryerson acting as master of ceremonies.

A Granger baseball game, and a tour of the college plant under the guidance of faculty members will conclude the afternoon.

Fresno Jails Three On Cattle Theft Charge

FRESNO, (U)—Police report the arrest of three youths on charges of cattle rustling.

A fictitious address on the bill of sale of a stolen calf resulted in the arrest of James Booth, 19, Lewis Dennis, 20, and Earl Baskett, 19, on charges of grand theft and petty theft.

Police said the trio confessed to rustling seven other calves from valley ranches as well as shingles, water pipe, bath room fixtures, gasoline and tools.

HARRY W. STRAIGHT IS FOUND DEAD AT GEORGIA SLIDE

CORONER A. J. Orelli was called to Georgia Slide Saturday morning in response to summons announcing the death of Harry W. Straight, aged about 66.

Mr. Straight occupied the Hinehart cabin at Georgia Slide and was found dead by the side of his bed Saturday morning by friends who went to call on him.

The coroner learned that neighbors had seen and talked with Mr. Straight Friday evening about 6:30 o'clock and the circumstance that the cabin was in good order and the lamp still burning on the table led the coroner to believe Mr. Straight died of natural causes Friday evening while getting ready to go to bed.

He had been a resident of the Georgetown district for several years and is reported to have relatives in Chicago in addition to nephews and nieces at the Bay District. Coroner Orelli is endeavoring to communicate with relatives.

5 INJURED IN SAC'TO FIRE

Two Jump From Second Floor As 3-Alarm Blaze Guts Downtown Rooming House

SACRAMENTO, (U)—A three-alarm fire gutted a rooming house in the downtown district today, causing injuries to five persons.

Mrs. Ann McCandlers, 42, who suffered possible internal injuries, a broken leg and first and second degree burns, was the most seriously injured.

The woman and her husband, J. T. McCandlers, 44, jumped from a second story window.

Police said Howard Cottrell, who suffered a broken foot, also jumped to safety. The others were treated for minor burns.

Origin of the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $50,000, was not established, although foremen said it apparently began in a shed adjoining the building where an automobile containing several cans of grease were stored.

FHA Will Open Sacramento Office

Home Loans Of Fourteen Counties To Be Handled Through New Branch

Sacramento will become Federal Housing Administration headquarters for northern California on Monday when a complete underwriting office will be opened by the governmental agency in the Postoffice Building, Sacramento.

The new office will be under the direction of Harvey Burnett, chief underwriter for the Superior California district, who comes here from the Northern California district office in San Francisco. He will supervise an office and field staff of about 20 government employees.

The new underwriting office, it was announced, will completely service all applications for mortgage insurance originating in the fifteen counties of Sacramento, Yolo, Colusa, Sutter, Yuba, Glenn, Butte, Tehama, Shasta, El Dorado, Amador, Siskiyou, Placer and Nevada. In Nevada, Placer and El Dorado counties named, however, it will process only that portion of the counties not now served by the Reno office of the FHA. From this area 1947 mortgages already have been selected for appraisal, for a total amount of $7,523,295.

Opening of the Northern California district office of the Federal Housing Administration was said to be in recognition of the increasing demands for mortgage insurance originating in the fourteen counties to be served. It will replace the service office which has been maintained in Sacramento for the past two years. John G. Melville, senior staff valuator in charge of the service office, will remain with the underwriting office for the present, it was announced.

Lost Money "Borrowed" And Then Repaid

PORTLAND, Ore., (U)—Knut Lien today received a wallet containing $11 from Detroit, Mich., the package was from Harvey Hungary, who also sent a letter of explanation. Hungary said that he was hitch hiking along the Columbia River highway when he found the wallet. "I 'borrowed' the money for train fare, to get home for a job," he wrote. "I knew it was yours, and I am returning it to you out of the money from my first pay check." Hungary thanked Lien for the loan.

LOTUS

Sunday was the warmest day for this year. The mercury hit the 84 degree mark. Friday and Saturday were also warm, registering 80 degrees on both dates and from this we may look for warm weather for a few months to come.

Last Tuesday morning, a week ago, a heavy frost visited our locality but no damage was done to the fruit crop.

In some low lands the pears were slightly hurt but as it is a bumper crop of pears will be had. As for the peach and plum crop, that will be very slight in the Coloma and Lotus valleys.

Constable Charlie Coster, Ben Logan and Hyman Werner were attending to business in justice court here Tuesday from Pilot Hill.

Mrs. Alice Zaliff, who has been a visitor at the Freeland home here for some time, returned Thursday last to Oakland where she will visit for a time before going to her home at Long Beach. Her mother, Mrs. Ida Freeland, will remain here with her son and wife before returning to her home in San Jose.

Dr. W. A. Reckers was called out from his Placerville office Thursday last to come for Mrs. Amanda Fenske, who is one of many on the sick list. At this writing the lady is doing fairly well and will soon be herself again.

Perley Monroe and his step-son, Will Binion, were here Sunday from Sacramento. They came up by Placerville and were en route to their home. They planned on spending the afternoon at the Mothers' Day picnic at Rescue. Perley always takes in the picnic at Rescue.

We received, the past week from our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bacchi, a very pretty wedding card, announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Bethel Marie, to Jacob Brugger, of Folsom, at Reno, April 30th. We have known the bride and her parents since birth and wish the newly-weds much happiness and success through married life. Thanks to you, Henry, for remembering me with the card.

The Mothers' Day picnic, held Sunday at the Litten-MacDonald Grove, at Rescue, was largely attended. Quite a crowd from Coloma and Lotus, and other sections of the county were present and all really enjoyed the day and greeted old friends from far and near. It was success in every way as the day was a pleasant one. We would like to give the names of those who spent the day from our town and Coloma, but space and time prevents us from doing so.

ADELE ENGSTROM

The Missouri Flat Sewing Club met at the home of Mrs. Annie Bryan. All I can truthfully say is that it was a grand and delicious luncheon and all the members will vote that she is the club's most perfect hostess. MORTALS and IMMORTALS.

Services, 11 a. m. Sunday School 9:30 a. m. Wednesday evening. Testimonial Meeting 3 p. m.

The reading room at the church building is open Tuesday and Friday from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, May 8, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text was: "The Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord" (Isaiah 59:20). Other Bible citations included: "Let no man deceive you with vain words: For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord; walk as children of light: . . . And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them . . . Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light" (Eph. 5:6 to 8, 11, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is well that the upper portions of the brain represent the higher moral sentiments, as if hope were ever prophesying thus: The human mind will sometime rise above all material and physical sense, exchanging it for spiritual perception, and exchanging human conceits for the divine consciousness" (p. 531).

"GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT" COMES TO EMPIRE THEATER SUNDAY

With George Brent and Olivia de Havilland as its stars, "Gold Is Where You Find It," a thrilling melodrama of California in the 1870's has its local premiere Sunday at the Empire.

It is a Warner Bros.-Cosmopolitan production in Technicolor and according to reports of previewers is one of the really best pictures of the season.

"Gold Is Where You Find It" deals with a phase of gold-seeking that has hitherto been untouched by the movies—the hydraulic mining whereby powerful streams of water ripped away hill sides, from the debris of which the miners sifted their metal.

But this debris overflowed upon the lands of the wheat-growers and orchardists, and warfare resulted—a conflict that was prolonged and deadly. The fight extended over a number of years, nearly split the State of California in two, and was not settled until a court decision declared in favor of the agriculturists and made the hydraulic interests quit.

A Terrace

More and more people are becoming sun conscious and the terrace, with the sky for the ceiling, is now popular. It has the house walk for a background, a color of bricks, flagstones, cement or green sward and it may have an awning for a roof. Here the family may enjoy its "place in the sun" or revel in the outdoors of a moonlit evening.

Its furniture is weather resistant, painted with two or more coats of house paint. Cushions and accessories must be set inside the house door at night.

A terrace has the advantage of being on any desired side of the house without spoiling the proportions and does not have a roof to darken the living rooms in dull weather. It is the next best thing to stepping out into the garden and affords a comfortable sitting place in the open without going far from the door.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, (U.P.)—The Walker cup team has put to sea, bound for old St. Andrews.

On the pier, with farewells over and the busy little tugs swinging the Bremen out into the channel, I remembered 1934 and the last Walker cup trip. I wondered, as the Bremen was cut free and started moving down the harbor, if the boys would gather as many memories as we did four years ago.

We weren't on any super liner. The U. S. G. A. made it a real Scotch trip, so we sailed on the Caledonia, a ship that's close to the sea and manned by men whose burr would bite into any wind; a ship that takes her time reaching the gentle waters of the Clyde; a ship of haggis and bagpipes and scones and drambule—a swell ship.

Only three who sailed on the Bremen were with us then. . . . Francis Ouimet, Johnny Goodman and Johnny Fischer. What changes four years have wrought; the lovable Ouimet is through cith competition, comfortably settled down in his role of non-playing captain.

Goodman, then more noted for traveling to tournaments in freight cars than for winning the national open, now is one of Omaha's more prominent young business men. And Fischer—what a shy, embarrassed, and frightened schoolboy he was when the Caledonia nosed away from the dock. He didn't speak ten words on the crossing, choosing to sit alone in a corner reading or walking the deck, practicing his swing. Since then he has won the national amateur and only his Prussian haircut remains the same.

Lawson Little was with us, not even sure of a place in the singles line-up, so little was he known. No one knew, least of all Lawson, that on the other side of the Atlantic he would start a winning streak that was to make him the most invincible amateur since Bob Jones. . . . and Gus Moreland, the drawling Texan, who is now settled in Peoria, a family man. . . . Gus didn't want to put on a dinner jacket. . . . said they were sissy clothes. . . . but he did, and after one look at his handsome self in the mirror, said: "Boys, from now on I'll get dressed up pretty as quick as the next one." It was Gus who, after he had fired a pair of birdies at his British foe in the cup matches, told and English reporter: "Man, you're looking at a golfer who is hotter than a setting hen on a wool nest."

Jack Westland was along, and John Dawson. It was Jack and Johnny who, spending a week-end at Lady Astor's country home, Cliveden, were requested to dress for an afternoon of racing at nearby Ascot. . . . knowing that Ascot called for fancy clothes, but not quite sure just what sort of fancy clothes, Jack and Johnny put on dinner jackets and let it go at that. . . . "I don't think Lord Astor has ever fully recovered from the shock of our appearance," Jack said in telling the story.

Practice on the deck going over, with the boys firing dozens of golf balls into the sea, much to the horror of the Scotch help. . . . betting on which player would have the best first round at St. Andrews, a course none had seen. . . . and Johnny Fischer, quiet, shy Johnny, who had never boasted of his game, winning the money by five strokes. . . .

Sweet Chandler Egan, old enough then to have been the father of any boy on the team. . . . winner of the national title in 1905, and yet he had made the Walker team 29 years later. Chandler's gone now, but his fine qualities will be remembered as long as men walk together down fairways.

Max Marston. . . . much maligned Max, who took it all with a tolerant smile, knowing, as did all who knew him, that no man ever played the game more to the hilt, but that no man ever played it with less deviation from the letter or the spirit of the rules. . . . black jack and bridge games that ran all night and on into the sunshine of the morning. . . . stateroom golf games, with the bath tub as the 18th hole. . . . the mist and the rain and the wind of St. Andrews. . . . night clubs in London. . . . midnight bowling on the green in Pretzwick. . . . the then Prince of Wales, uttering a royal damn when he sat down on a gorse bush in a mad scramble for a better view of the putting green. . . . memories.

As I walked from the dock I wished for the 1938 team the same luck, the same good times, the same fellowship that we had in 1934, when I went along with the boys to write about them.

Buying Clothing

When purchasing materials for making into a garment or any household article, test a sample first to see if it may be washed successfully. Observe if the colors will run or if the material will stretch or shrink out of shape.

In buying ready-made garments, note how easily they may be kept in condition. Can they be washed with water or must they be dry cleaned? What about pleats, gathers or the trimming? Can this be readily pressed and kept in form? Are there buttons which have the top half glued on and which will come apart when wet? If light colored collars and cuffs go with the outfit, it is best to have them detachable for they will require much more frequent laundering than the rest of the garment.

CEYLONESE LIVES ON GRASS

COLOMBO, Ceylon, (U.P.)—Carolus, a Ceylonese, is growing strong and healthy on a diet of grass. A few years ago, he declared, he was "always sick" and medicine failed to cure him. So he gave up ordinary food and went on a grass diet.
